MRS. BROKAW'S SISTER WEDS

Miss Blair Secretly Married to French Downer, of Buffalo.

Syracuse, October 22.—The little village of Chittenango was surprised yesterday by the news that Miss Elodie Blair, eighteen years old, daughter of Joseph Allen Blair, of Chittenango, and a sister of Mrs. W. Gould Brokaw, had been secretly married to French Downer, of Buffalo, twenty-one years old, who had been spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. D. French, of Chittenango, at Nutwood Farm, the Blair home, but the girl's parents had not imagined that there was anything serious in the friendship. A few days ago Miss Blair left home ostensibly to visit a friend, but one who had been convinced her intentions of marrying. Last evening relatives of the young man received a telegram sent from Buffalo and signed by the couple. It contained merely the words: "We are married and very happy."

The report of the marriage was confirmed by Mr. Downer's relatives in Chittenango, but Mr. Blair declined to discuss the matter in any way whatever.

A separation was granted Mrs. W. Gould Brokaw, with alimony of $15,000 a year on February 3 last.

TO SING FOR THE KAISER

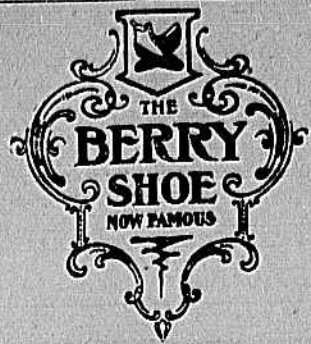

Caruso and Geraldine Farrar Invited, Caruso Crave in Berlin.

Berlin, October 22.—At 1 o'clock on Thursday morning the crowd of Caruso worshippers extended four deep from the doors of the Royal Opera House to St. Hedwig's Church, a Lutheran church, where the people must have known that they had not the faintest chance of getting a ticket. On this occasion there were no collisions like those of last year, and when toward 1 o'clock a placard was hung out stating that all tickets for the Caruso performances had been sold out, the line quietly dispersed. Caruso has been invited to sing privately before the Kaiser. The invitation also includes Geraldine Farrar. At the close of her recent performance of "Manon," the Kaiser sent word to her that he thought she was singing all the better for her experience in America.

WOULD MAKE TRAINING OF BOYS FOR WAR COMPULSORY

Washington, D. C., October 22.—Compulsory training of school boys in rifle practice and the handling of arms as a preparation for defense of the nation in time of war, is advocated by J. E. Gilman, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Commander Gilman's convictions on this subject are expressed in a letter to Albert S. Jones, secretary of the National Rifle Association of America, in response to a query from the latter as to what the probable attitude of the Grand Army of the Republic toward legislation now pending in Congress for the promotion of rifle practice among the civilians and schools of the country.

Arguing that this country in time of war must depend on its citizens, and expressing the belief that if the school boys before the Civil War had been trained in rifle practice the consequences of that war would not have been so terrible, Commander Gilman said.

"Should the school boys of this generation be trained in the handling of arms and rifle practice the government of the future would be sure of an army ready and able to meet attack from without or revolt from within. For these reasons I strongly hope that measures may be taken to compel the school boys of this generation and generations to come to be trained in rifle practice and the handling of arms. Such action would, I am sure, be welcomed by the Grand Army of the Republic, whose comrades have intimate knowledge of the great losses sustained by them through ignorance of the duties pertaining to soldiers."

TAFT'S "NOISY PREDECESSOR"

Senator Nelson Thus Refers to Roosevelt in a Campaign Speech, Bemidji, Minn., October 22.—Eulogizing President Taft as a greater man than Theodore Roosevelt, ridiculing the platform of Minnesota Democrats and ridiculing that party's candidate for Governor, and pleading for reappointment as one of the big issues of the present campaign, United States Senator Knute Nelson delivered an address here that attracted much attention.

Senator Nelson dwelt at length upon the work achieved by the last national Congress and pointed with pride to the achievements of President Taft in his present term of office, which he said exceeded all other works accomplished in the two administrations of his "noisy but not altogether accurate" predecessor.

This is the first time Senator Nelson

SPECIAL MISSION TO TURKEY

Germany Sees Railroad Scheme Behind U. S. Congressional Action to the Senate. Berlin, October 22.—Secretary Irwin Lehigh of the American embassy and Captain Shattuck, the military attaché, have been detailed to accompany Huntington Wilson, of the State Department, on a mission to Constantinople to reciprocate the complimentary mission sent by the Sultan to Washington to notify the American government of his accession. It is believed in Berlin that the mission has other aims also.

Some months ago an American syndicate attempted to secure a concession from the Porte to build a railroad through Asia Minor, but failed, owing to the opposition of the German ambassador in behalf of the Anatolian Railway. The latter argued that the proposed line would interfere with the German undertaking.

It is supposed that Mr. Wilson's mission is to endeavor to arrive at a compromise between the conflicting interests.

John Sullivan Awakes to Find Himself at Sea.

Savannah, October 22.—While on a spree in Boston last Sunday, a man who gave his name as John Sullivan, and his address as 2 Lawrence Court, wandered about these streets, I strongly hope that measures may be taken to compel the school boys of this generation and generations to come to be trained in rifle practice and the handling of arms. Such action would, I am sure, be welcomed by the Grand Army of the Republic, whose comrades have intimate knowledge of the great losses sustained by them through ignorance of the duties pertaining to soldiers."

Sullivan is awaiting financial aid from home. He declares he volunteered to take a drunken sailor home and landed on the steamer, where he fell asleep unloosed in the rush of getting away. Sullivan declares he never before knew there was so much water in the ocean.

WHOLESALE INITIATION

Woodmen of World Take in 7,800 Candidates.

Louisville, Ky., October 22.—Seven thousand and eight hundred men, among them Governor Wilson, of Kentucky, coming from seven States—Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky—today were initiated into the Woodmen of the World. Twenty thousand Woodmen witnessed the ceremonies. The degree team from Dayton, Ohio, conducted the initiation. John T. Yates, sovereign clerk, and Dr. A. D. Floyd, sovereign physician, both of Nebraska, were among the national officers present.

CLEANING CHINATOWN

All White Persons Are Ordered From District.

New York, October 22.—New York's Chinatown is to be cleaned up as it has never been cleaned before. This is the decision of the new police administration, it was learned at headquarters to-night, and beginning at midnight, the police were instructed to order all white persons from the district. The order, of course, excludes white residents of the quarter, but it was intimated that steps would be taken to clear such persons out later by condemnation of the buildings, if necessary.

WARSHIP FOR CUBA

The Hattori, Converted From a Yacht, Arrives in Boston Harbor.

Boston, October 22.—The Cuban coast defense boat Hattori, the first naval vessel flying the flag of the new republic ever seen here, has arrived from Bath, Me. The Hattori was formerly the steam yacht Pantoset, owned by A. S. Bigelow, of this city. She was used as the Cuban President's yacht until this summer, when she was sent to Bath to be converted into a coast defense boat.

The vessel was built at Bath in 1902, and while a yacht she carried a crew of thirty men. She is 182 feet long, 27.5 feet beam, 15.5 feet depth of hold. Her net tonnage is 270, and gross tonnage 538. She is now manned by a crew of Cubans. The Hattori will remain here for three days, and proceed to Havana.

A battery of rapid-fire guns is mounted on her decks.

SAGAN FIGHTS FOR DUKEDOM

Family Trying to Keep Anna Gould's Husband Out of the Succession.

Berlin, October 22.—Prince Sagan, the husband of Anna Gould, took another step at Berlin yesterday in the course of his campaign to establish his right to the dukedom and property of the great house of Tallyrand-Perigord. The proceedings were for the purpose of setting aside the decision of a German family council some time ago, declaring that the prince was not entitled to succeed his father, the Duke Boson de Tallyrand-Perigord, who died insane during the summer. The ground of the prince's proceedings is that Count Hatzfeld, a high official of the Kaiser's court, was a member of the council as extra guardian, although his appointment as such had already been declared null and void by French tribunals.

The Prince de Sagan earlier in the year when he expected the birth of a child went to the Tallyrand Schloss in Berlin to see his father's grave. The child born there, but admittance was forcibly denied by her German relatives who were in possession.

STOLE FROM A MINT

Employee in San Francisco Confesses to Taking Pieces of Gold.

San Francisco, October 22.—Walter Fewer, a trusted employee at the San Francisco mint, was arrested to-day and confessed to thefts of gold from the refining room which had been carried on for months. Fewer was short. The total amount of the thefts has not been ascertained, but it will run up into the thousands.

Fewer was summoned to Dr. Sweeney's office and was asked to explain how he happened to have a lump of gold worth about $200 in his pocket. He nearly fainted. Then he gasped: "I took it from the refining room."

When pressed Fewer said he had been taking gold for twelve months. He could not tell why he stole. The gold which he took was the upper undissolved ends of chloride anodes. When these pieces of chloride are placed in solution in refining the upper ends are cut off and do not dissolve. These pieces afterwards are melted.

Fewer put one of these anodes in his pocket when no one was looking. Discovery was made to some, as the amount of bullion produced was short.

Fewer entered the mint after his enlistment in the army ran out. He has a wife and a small baby. His habits were so good that after he had worked two years as watchman and helper he was placed in the refining room. He had only $150 in the bank.

HER ASHER TO THE WIND

Lost Wishes of Miss Iglesias, Who said She Was of No Country, Accorded To.

Springfield, Mass., October 22.—The last wish of Miss Leo Iglesias, who claimed to be without a country, and who died at South Manchester, Conn., last week, was carried out to-day, when her ashes were scattered to the four winds. C. J. Roadstrand, an undertaker, went to the Springfield cemetery this morning and took from the vault a cut-glass urn containing the ashes of Miss Iglesias. He drove to the Northend Bridge, under which flows the Connecticut River, and standing about in the centre of the structure, he raised the lid of the urn and allowed the winds to sweep away its contents.

Miss Iglesias was born on the high seas. About ten years ago she practiced mental healing in this city, but recently had offices in Hartford and Manchester, Conn. She was housekeeper for Edward F. Young for several years, and when Mr. Young died he remembered her in his will. Her friends say that she was called the woman of mystery, as comparatively little was known of her past life.

Her father was a captain in the Spanish navy, and about sixty years ago met and married the woman who became the mother of Miss Iglesias. The mother desired that the child be born in Japan, where the father hoped that the birth might take place under the Spanish flag. When the child was born on the high seas, an estrangement developed between the parents, mak-

TRY TO BLACKMAIL PRELATE

Hungarians Charged With Demanding $22,000 From Archbishop of Kalocsa.

Columbus, Ohio, October 22.—Post-Office Inspector J. F. Oldfield, of Cincinnati, aided by secret service men and policemen, to-day arrested in their boarding-house six Hungarians on a charge of attempting blackmail. He expects to arrest as many more, he says. The alleged victim was Archbishop Julius Van Barosky, of Kalocsa, Hungary, who complained to Bishop Joseph J. Hartley, of the Roman Catholic Church, Columbus. Bishop Hartley communicated with Inspector Oldfield, who has been working on the case for a year.

Four letters were sent to the archbishop, it is alleged, by Jonas Verge, one of the men arrested, who is declared by Oldfield to be the leader of an organization which sought to extort $22,000 from the prelate. The letters demanded that the money be sent to Columbus, and threatened that unless it was forwarded through a league in Hungary, the archbishop would be killed and his cathedral and parochial schools destroyed.

At the instance of Archbishop Van Barosky, Emperor Francis Joseph became interested in the matter, and instructed the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office to get into communication with the American officials.
